

Cube 6, a group exhibition by Garthim in Los Angeles, CA

Garthim presents Cube 6, a group exhibition of works on paper from six artists living in the United States taking place in Los Angeles, California. Garthim fabricated "Cube 6," a modular exhibition cube, for the purpose of assimilating these artworks into the location where they were installed. Like any legitimate attempt at camouflage, this is sometimes effective and sometimes much less than that. The wood base of "Cube 6" was fabricated in part using images of Japanese designer Naho Matsuno's stool and is named after her original design. Images of the original, "Cube 3," can be found here.

We hope you enjoy the exhibition.
